This perfectly original and novel system of instruction, (and the only one ever paiented,) puts it in the power of every merwoman and child in the country to become, without the aid on a master, an accomplished writer. By any other known process, none but persons having a special faculty or natural talent for writing, acquire great proficiency, while by this system the ability is instructed to will to obtain the highest possible combination of correctness and rapidity. A paraph of containing rull explanations and directions, will accompany sacrasted books; or the pamphiet will be sent to any address, without charge, on the receipt of a postage stamp. The ablest educationists in the country have given the subject is very thorough examination, and have expressed their confidence in the all sufficiency of the system.

EXTRACTS FROM THE MANY TERIMONIALS IN POSSESSION OF THE From James N. McZiligotti Li. D.:

The pupil is compelled to unite in his practice correctness of form with rapidity of execution. These, as is well known, are the capital requisites in the formation of a good pentuan, and it is the crowning feature of Mr. Mediaurin's system. that they or me out of the practice involved in his course of exercises by a nort of ratural necessity.
